Product marketer with 4+ years driving GTM strategy, customer storytelling, and sales enablement in B2B SaaS, currently deepening my analytical foundation through an MS in Business Analytics at CU Boulder. I am drawn to roles where marketing is grounded in real customer insight and evidence, where understanding what customers actually need shapes every story told and every asset built.

EXPERIENCE

Product Strategy & Analytics Intern | Auddia Inc | Boulder, CO | Sep 2025 – Feb 2026

- Build repeatable research and analysis workflows using AI tooling to surface product and market insights at speed, producing clear recommendations for cross-functional stakeholders.
- Developed and maintained content and tracking systems in analytics platforms to keep internal teams aligned on product direction and performance.

Product Marketing Manager | Trustpilot | New York, NY | Aug 2021 – Jun 2025

- Owned customer proof and ROI storytelling across segments, proactively developing case studies, testimonials, and success narratives that supported new business and expansion conversations across the sales cycle.
- Built and maintained a full suite of sales enablement content, including pitch decks, battlecards, and use-case guides, ensuring customer evidence was embedded into deal cycles and outbound sequences rather than sitting unused.
- Partnered with Sales, CS, and Product to align customer stories with product launches and GTM moments, managing approvals, permissions, and stakeholder sign-offs with persistence and care.
- Developed segment-specific messaging and positioning frameworks grounded in voice-of-customer research and competitive analysis, improving overall product appeal by 7%.
- Produced webinars, lifecycle campaigns, and content across multiple formats, increasing self-sign-up conversion by 5%+ and adding $1M+ in incremental ARR through consistent, high-quality output.

Associate Product Marketing Manager

- Built repeatable workflow templates and content systems that standardized GTM execution and kept Sales, CS, and Marketing aligned on messaging, timing, and launch deliverables.
- Closed the feedback loop between customer input and published content, coordinating across teams to ensure customer voices shaped both product direction and external storytelling.

Customer Marketing Coordinator

- Executed high-volume lifecycle campaigns across customer segments, shifting to behaviorally driven communications that increased engagement and adoption by 11% by making every message feel relevant and human.
- Developed onboarding and educational content in partnership with CS, helping customers reach value faster and building the trust that turns users into advocates.

Marketing Specialist | CYBRI | New York, NY | Apr 2021 – Aug 2021

- Produced webinars, sales content, and positioning materials for a technical audience, translating complex cybersecurity capabilities into clear, compelling narratives that resonated with non-technical buyers.
- Conducted competitive research and user flow audits to sharpen market positioning, improving conversion and lead quality across the buyer journey.

SELECTED PROJECTS

Vail Resorts – Consumer Segmentation: Applied statistical clustering to develop core customer segments from behavioral data; translated findings into segment-specific narratives and marketing recommendations to drive purchase growth across key consumer occasions.

EverCommerce – Market Segmentation: Used R-based clustering to segment B2B customer data; identified high-growth market segments to inform targeted cross-selling strategies and sharpen go-to-market storytelling.
